

Dr David Fraser

Short-form Biography

Dr David Fraser is an author, change agent, trusted adviser, and business owner. He is Managing Director of Success for Leaders and a Chartered Engineer. David specialises in the development of leadership, agility, and making organisations effective through successful strategy and implementation and establishing an enterprising culture. He has a First Class Honours Degree in Engineering, a PhD in power system simulation and control, and an MBA. In the first phase of his career, he rose rapidly through several engineering companies including Thales and BAE to prominence as a Programme Director for BAE Systems Marine. His two books are Relationship Mastery: A Business Professional's Guide and The Mastery of Leadership. David works with a range of clients in the private sector and further and higher education, assisting their leaders with the development of their organisations. He also runs open workshops and is the organiser and host of the Leadership Conversations series of events in Glasgow.